

Yorkshire Classic Motorcycle Club The West Riding Trial

Mark Francis (Matchless) Pre-Unit Clubman runner up in 2016

History of the West Riding Trial

A dozen or so clubs around the country in the late 80's used to put on a round of the then British Trials Championship. The Yorkshire Club used to run the Captains Trial as their round on a much reduced mileage compared to the other rounds. In 1993 the event was switched to start at the Flappit Inn Denholme and became known as the West Riding Trial. In 1998 the event changed to start at the Sun Inn Haworth before moving for the final time to the Guide Inn from where it still starts today. The 2017 event is the 15th anniversary of the club using the Guide Inn. The course is getting shorter as more land becomes available to cut out some road work and is currently only 30 miles of lanes and tracks linking some of the clubs best pieces of trials land in the area. The course is suitable for all levels of rider and every section has a dual route. The club has awards for the class winners in the trial which are presented at the annual dinner in March.
